Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, whose government was returned to power at Monday's poll by a sweeping majority.

CANADA'S NEW PREMIER

Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, premier-elect for Canada, was born at Kitchener, Ontario, and attended the University of Toronto. Following his graduation, he took postgraduate work in the University of Chicago, and later became a fellow in political science at Harvard, where he remained from 1897 to 1900. In 1908 he was awarded the degree of A.M., and the degree of Ph.D. in 1909. At the age of twenty-five he was offered a professorship in Harvard, but declined the offer to engage in public life in his own country at a much lower salary.

Mr. King educated himself for public work, and became minister of labor and editor of the Labor Gazette in 1908. During this time he served as chairman of several royal commissions on labor and immigration problems, and as government conciliator in numerous industrial disputes.

He represented the Canadian government in negotiations with the British government on immigration into Canada from Britain. In 1908 he held a similar position on a commission treating immigration into Canada from the Orient. He was one of the British delegates on the international opium commission at Shanghai in 1909. He was made Fellow of the Royal Society in Canada in 1910, and was minister of labor in the Laurier cabinet from 1909-1911. From 1914 to 1917 he was president of the General Reform Association of Ontario. During the war, Mr. King rendered remarkable executive service in furthering a continuous maximum production in war supplies by preserving harmonious relations between workmen and employers in several of the most extended of the war industries in America. He was a member of the National Executive Committee on the Patriotic Fund from 1914 to 1920. He was elected leader of the Liberal party to succeed the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier at the national convention in 1919. In 1921 he was elected premier in one of the most sweeping Liberal victories Canadians had ever known.

The party, which has again come into power, is pledged to a revision of the Canadian tariff downward.

Conservatives in Nova Scotia held smokers last week—kinds get-together farewell parties.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to take this way of expressing my sincere appreciation to my loyal supporters for the work done prior to election, and to the electors who so loyally supported me at the polls.

GEORGE G. COOTE

HANSELL ELECTED

TO MACLEOD

Macleod's new Social Credit member-elect, Ernest G. Hansell, was born in 1895 in Norwich, England. He came to this country at the age of eight years, and received his public and high school education in Manitoba. He came to Calgary in 1911 and was at one time cartoonist on the Calgary News-Telegram. In 1918 he decided to go into the ministry. He took his theological course in the Bible Institute under the world-famed evangelist and bible scholar, Dr. R. A. Torrey. After graduating from the Bible Institute, he took a three-year post-graduate course from the Southern School of Divinity, specializing in psychology and other subjects. From this school he received his B.D. degree.

After being in the ministry for some years, Mr. Hansell studied law, not for the purpose of ever entering the profession, but rather for the purpose of mental discipline. This course was not completed on account of financial reverses.

He was one time minister with Mr. Aberhart in the Westbourne Baptist church in Calgary, before the days of the present Bible Institute. He has also held a pastorate in Camrose, one of his members there being the present minister of agriculture in the Social Credit government. He once had a call to become associate minister with Dr. H. H. Bingham, late of Calgary. He has also held pastorates in B.C.

Mr. Hansell moved to Vulcan over a year ago, becoming the permanent pastor of the Church of Christ.

MUSICAL FESTIVAL OPENS THURSDAY NEXT WEEK

The eleventh annual Crows' Nest Pass Musical Festival will open a three-day session at the Columbus hall on Thursday morning next, and, weather permitting, promises to be highly successful.

We understand from the secretary, Mrs. J. H. Farmer, that a total of 221 entries have been made, including 113 vocal, 65 violin and 43 piano. Two brass bands have also entered, Kimberley and West Canadian Chelieres Band.

The territory this year extends from Medicine Hat and Okotoks to the east and north, and Kimberley to the west. Music lovers from these and all intervening points are expected to make Blairmore their headquarters during the festival. We understand that special transportation rates and special hotel accommodation are being offered. Prizes or certificates will be awarded at the conclusion of each day's events, while cups, shields and other major trophies will be presented by the president on Saturday night.

During the past few weeks an extensive contest between politicians for good looks has been waged through the press of Canada. Some of them have been adjudged as really beautiful specimens of humanity, while others just constituted a miserable blur on an otherwise good sheet of reading material. The awards were meted out on Monday.

The Relief Expenditure Burden

With the Federal elections over and the political complexion of the next Parliament of Canada defined, the government of the country will be faced with a number of important problems to decide, and not the least of these is the question of the steps which must be taken to ease the debt burden of governmental units in Western Canada.

By governmental units is meant the governments of the provinces and of the municipalities, urban and rural.

During the past five years the public finances of the Western Canadian provinces and of the municipalities, which are their creatures, have been strained to the breaking point to meet the problems which drought and general unemployment have brought in their train.

Not only has the public purse of the Western provinces and of the municipalities been depleted in the struggle to ensure that their citizens should not starve, freeze or go shelterless in their grim fight against great odds, but they have been obliged to pledge their future resources, to an alarming extent, to enable the citizens of the present generation to keep their heads above water.

In the three prairie provinces millions of dollars have been spent to furnish a substantial percentage of the population with food, fuel and clothing, and in the urban centres with shelter as well; and this, despite the fact that the Federal Government has also contributed large sums to bolster up the provinces and the municipalities in their fight to ensure the necessities of life for their people.

In addition, however, to the money which has been expended out of current revenues these provincial and municipal governments have pledged many more millions of dollars against the credit of the future earning power of the people, a debt which will have to be liquidated in the future either by the taxpayers of to-day or by the rising generation, or a combination of both.

Without going into statistics which, at the best, make dry reading, it is axiomatic to say that the indebtedness which has been piled up on this count, directly and indirectly, reaches a staggering total and has passed the figure which is within the competence of these governmental units to meet from existing resources.

One of the conditions contributing to the existing condition of the finances of the Western provinces and municipalities is the inequity of the distribution of the tax burden as between individual taxpayers and the inequity of the distribution of the bases of taxation as between the federal, provincial and municipal governing entities.

The financial situation which has developed as a result of these inequalities is one which will have to be faced and remedied by the newly-elected Parliament if the Western provinces and municipalities are to remain solvent and are to be enabled to extricate themselves from a position which has become intolerable.

So far as the municipal governments are concerned, their financial plight has been accentuated by practical limitation to really as, at least, the principal tax base, and this applies to both rural and urban, only in a different degree. Land has more than passed the limit of its endurance as a source of revenue for governments. Other spheres of taxation are denied to the municipalities, and this is one discriminatory feature which will have to be remedied.

In seeking additional sources of revenue municipalities are cramped by legislative action of their superior provinces and the provinces in turn are hampered by Federal authority.

What is needed is a nation-wide conference in which the municipalities can get together with the provinces and the Dominion and, in a spirit of tolerance and recognition of the difficulties of one another, come to an agreement which will provide for specific delimitation of spheres of taxation and a definite understanding that the several governmental units will not in future encroach upon one another's taxation preserves.

This understanding should be translated into legislative enactment and if it involves amendments to the British North America Act, as undoubtedly it would, efforts should be made to secure the necessary sanction.

The problem of relief, it has been reiterated by competent authorities time and again, is a national one. The provinces have said so. The urban municipalities have said so and the rural municipalities hold the same view, even if they have not adopted resolutions in convention to that effect.

If the Federal government is not prepared to recognize the situation in the west as a national problem, the only alternative is for the Dominion government to make it possible for the provinces and municipalities to liquidate past, present and future expenditures by providing them with the machinery to levy the money where the money is available.

Norway Has Queer Tax

"Sparrow tax" is a levy most annoying to the farmers of Norway, and is one of the most unusual in Europe. For prayers offered up by the pastor of the Nyrirker Church at Bergen against crop ruination by the birds, each farmer must pay 30 kroner annually, or about $7.50. The tillers of the soil say that they receive little for their money, since the sparrows continue to attack the harvests.

Another Set Of Men Prove Heroes In Scientific Tests

Another dauntless set of men has been added to the honor roll of heroes who have risked their lives in scientific tests for the sake of humanity. The latest heroes are Dr. J. F. Corson of Tanganyika, Africa, his assistant H. C. Smith and an African native. The problem was whether the tsetse fly disease of sleeping sickness, when it had developed in a human being and had afterward been transmitted from him to another animal would retain sufficient virulence in that animal to infect man again. In the course of several experiments all three allowed themselves to be infected with the germs of sleeping sickness. Their chance of recovery depended on a good and happy it proved effective.

Beauty In Old London

Pictures Of Infinite Variety Can Be Seen From Great Bridges
Old St. Paul's, perched high on Ludgate Hill, once a commanding position, is being gradually crowded out by other buildings. The most impressive sight of Westminster's venerable cathedral is that looking from Fleet-street up Ludgate Hill, I have heard jaded newspaper men, familiar with Fleet-street at all hours of the day and night, grow lyrical about the loveliness of that glimpse of St. Paul's at dawn.

A great white London seems to have sprung up like magic. But it has not obliterated the past, and one of the charms of a walk through the city is the unexpected glimpses one gets through its narrow courts and alleys of old taverns, little shops, and ivied churches that have stood unchanging through the centuries.

It has been said that one cannot walk a hundred yards in London without seeing a bunch of trees. That is almost completely true. In fact, there are enough trees in the London streets and squares to make up, if placed together, a very respectable forest. Who has ever noted that there are over seventy trees in the Strand?

But nothing excels the river views. Wherever one looks, or from whatever angle of the seven great bridges from the Tower to Lambeth, there is picture after picture of infinite variety and beauty. At night, when the Embankment sparkles with its thousand lights, the view from the bridges of London's curving waterfront has the quality of pure magic. No Westminster could do it justice.—Overseas Daily Mail.

Making An Empire

Britain Did Not Accomplish It By Force Of Arms

Signor Mussolini adroitly sought to weaken the influence of British efforts to avert war with these words: "My only desire is to serve my country as did the great Englishmen who built up the British Empire." But the great Englishmen, lacking aeroplanes and poison gas, went into the unknown lands, not in vast numbers, but in small parties. Once a few of them came to Australia with a man named James Cook. They did not blow the aborigines to pieces with cannon, but found it sufficient when supposed to be a few pellets into the legs of a hostile native. That was the invasion of Australia. It can hardly be described as a conquest by force of arms. True, here and there in the Empire there has been fighting, and in the dark past deeds have been done which people of British blood would not dream of doing today; but it is to the solitary explorer and to the little bands of navigators that the making of Empire should be credited.—Melbourne Australasian.

Black wool-like silk crepe with a white satin collar is also a very smart scheme for it.

Serum For Paralysis

Demonstration Is Made Of New Treatment For Dread Disease

A serum he said was as positive and effective in the treatment of infantile paralysis as the serum widely used in treating diphtheria was demonstrated by Dr. E. C. Rosenow of the Mayo Foundation, University of Minnesota, before members of the Kentucky State Medical Association.
The serum, Dr. Rosenow told the assembled physicians and surgeons, is the result of 19 years of experimentation and while it does not completely solve the problem it is effective when used within 48 hours after the disease is contracted. Within that period it is as effective and positive as the serum used for diphtheria, Dr. Rosenow said.

Dr. A. T. McCormack, secretary of the Kentucky state board of health, said the demonstration made by Dr. Rosenow was "pretty conclusive."

Arabs Find New Work

Motor Car Has Changed History Of The Bedouins

The London Sunday Express says the Bedouins in Arabia have, from time immemorial, lived by transporting goods across the desert on their camels. To-day the motor car is displacing the camel as the ship of the desert. So the Bedouins are seeking a new livelihood. In the Arab kingdoms they have begun to grow corn where it never grew before. They are settling down and building cities for the first time. The motor car is changing the map of the world. It is changing the history of the peoples.

Rear Admiral Byrd Says Dominion Pilots Best For Arctic Exploration

A tribute to Canada's north country flyers was paid at Toronto by Rear-Admiral Byrd, famous United States Antarctic explorer. Replying to Mayor Simpson's welcome as a civic reception outside of city hall, Admiral Byrd said Canadians knew more of polar flying than any other pilots. Long experience flying over snow and ice and in sub-zero weather made them excellent pilots for Arctic or Antarctic expeditions, he said.

Strange City In Arabia

Streets Of Lamu Lined With Ruins Of Many Palaces

Lamu, an ancient Arabian city of mystery, is built on a little island not far from Mombasa, in the Kenya Colony. The streets of this strange municipality, which are so narrow that the sun scarcely even shines in them, are lined with the ruins of many palaces. The inhabitants of Lamu are descendants of the old Persians who founded a colony on the island about A.D. 700, and are very proud of their aristocratic origin and traditions, for more than a thousand years ago their ancestors had produced great poets, architects and jewelers. The population makes a living by cultivating coco-palms, by fishing and collecting ambergris.

A Rainbow Snow Storm

Beautiful Layers Of Varied Colors Fell On Australian Alps

Colored snow fell on the Australian Alps for the second time this winter. It changed the landscape around Hotham Heights from white to chocolate within a few hours, while at Mt. Buller the inhabitants woke to see a bright red layer on the snow, half an inch deep. By noon heavy snow had blotted out the red layer. The most remarkable fall was at St. Bernard's Hospice, where pink snow fell in two layers, an inch and a half thick, with a 6-inch strip glittering white snow sandwiched in between.

ITALIANS WILL TAKE STEPS TO FIGHT BLOCKADE

Geneva.—After the League of Nations had taken its historic step toward the enforcement of sanctions against Italy, an Italian spokesman told the Associated Press that if a naval blockade were employed to back up sanctions "it would mean war."

Italy, he disclosed, plans upon getting necessary from Germany through Austria and does not fear economic sanctions. Oil, he added, can be obtained "from some other nation" which could send it to Italy through the reich.

This information said Italians are enraged and depressed over the assembly's stand against their nation.

"Why will the world not recognize Italy is stifling unto death and needs an outlet," he asked. "Why doesn't it realize it must remove the cause of war and give Italy some great open space where Italians may breathe?"

Almost solidly the members of the League of Nations arraigned Italy as an aggressor in her conflict with Ethiopia.

Forty-nine countries gave their full consent to sanctions against Italy. Of the remaining 10 countries in the assembly, five were absent (including Germany), two opposed the idea of sanctions and one—Switzerland—made reservations. The other two were the disputants themselves.

The attitude of Austria and Hungary in opposing the action of the league caused grave concern in league quarters.

Despite their non-acceptance of the council's report, they were invited to sit on the sanctions committee, along with all league states except the belligerents.

Officials said pressure would probably be brought to bear upon Hungary and Austria to prevent transit across their soil from neutral countries, like Germany, of war and other material destined for Italy.

Impressive was the note in speeches that there was no idea behind sanctions of punishing people. The dominating note was that Italy should be "brought to her senses" and shown that in these days "war is out of fashion," as one delegate said.

Climate Hard On Soldiers

Sailor Reports Fever Killing Off Italians in Africa

Halifax.—Tropical diseases are killing off Italy's soldiers in Africa "like flies," according to Captain John Smith, Scottish master of the motorship Cinghiale Prince.

Hundreds of those escaping death, the speaker said, were being stricken stone blind. Shiploads of others, seized with fever though not fatally, were being sent home hors de combat.

He had met some of fever-ridden soldiers returning as he passed through the Mediterranean this month, Captain Smith said. He had been told of the many deaths and of the mysterious blindness by doctors at Port Said and Mowda, port of disembarkment for the Roman legions.

They told him, he asserted, that men would be in full health in the morning and dead in the afternoon from fever's swift ravages. The Italian medical corps was described as baffled to identify some of the diseases.

Able To Repay Kindness

Farmers Send Vegetables To Dried-Out Areas In North

Amulet, Sask.—Not forgetting the people who so generously supplied vegetables in this district for so many years, the farmers were able to repay their kindness to some extent this fall.

They brought in several dozen bags of carrots which were taken to Ogema by truck. From there they will be shipped to dried-out areas in the north.

Experiment With Crows

University Of Alberta Releases Birds With Leg Bands

Edmonton.—Hunters of the prairies need not be surprised this week if their kill includes a very black crow with the stem feathers painted a brilliant yellow.

Prof. William Rowan of the University of Alberta, is carrying on a new experiment with crows.

A shipment of 75 crows will be sent to Winnipeg, and somewhere west of Manitoba's capital, far from familiar landmarks, the birds will be released.

Before leaving here, the birds will be subject to the administrations of a body-fishing expert in a local automobile plant. Each crow will get the stem-feather coating of yellow. Also, each bird will be banded. Hunters are asked to shoot on sight and return the leg bands here. Cash prizes will be awarded for the return of the bands.

Plot Of Gangsters

Alleged Plan To Liberate Prisoners In United States

San Francisco.—Police Chief William Quinn disclosed that his men had been on guard for a year against a plot of gangsters to attack the United States government's Alcatraz island with a heavily armed police boat and deliver some of the worst desperadoes.

James Johnston, Alcatraz warden, said he had not heard of such a plot but "anyone trying to storm this prison will get a hot reception." The prisoners include Al Capone, George "Burrhead" Barker, Harvey Bailey, Albert Bates and John Paul Chase.

Quinn said the police boat, D. A. White, still was being guarded.

Well Known Engineer Dead

H. N. Spicer Made Trip Across Australia In 1894

New York.—Harold Norman Spicer, 70, director of the Dorr Company, Inc., engineers, and widely known in mining circles, died here. He was a member of the first party of white men to cross Australia from east to west, making the trip in 1894 while engaged in metallurgy and general mining in the Australian gold fields. He had spent the last years of his life in a mining camp in the western part of the word with the exception of South America. Mr. Spicer was born at Bradbott Hall, Hants, England.

Spending Millions On Arms

France Announces Program For Armament Production In 1936

Paris.—Marcel Regnier, minister of finance, announced that France was spending $439,000,000 francs ($364,600,000) on armaments in 1936. "When Europe and the whole world is ringing with the sound of arms," he told the chamber of deputies finance committee, "it is no time to renounce financial sacrifices."

Emergency arms appropriations are added to the regular army, navy and aviation budgets.

With these additions, the national defence expenditures will be $1,242,000,000 francs ($801,372,000).

Appeal Was Rejected

New Jersey Court Decides Hauptmann's Sentence Must Stand

Trenton, N.J.—The highest court in New Jersey—the court of errors and appeals—upheld the death sentence conviction of Bruno Richard Hauptmann for the kidnapping-murder of young Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr.

Appeals to this court are usually denied unless there are extenuating circumstances.

He may also appeal for a new trial on the basis that new evidence has been discovered. And he may also appeal to the supreme court of the United States. His attorneys have said they will carry the case to this last and highest tribunal.

FIERCE FIGHTING REPORTED FROM THE WAR FRONT

Paris.—Despatches to the Paris Soir from the Eritrean front stated that fighting is general throughout the northern Ethiopian sector with 300,000 troops engaged in a quadrangle formed by Adi Ugri and Adi Kale, in Eritrea, and Adigrat and Aksum, in Ethiopia.

The fiercest fighting, said the despatches, was on the outskirts of Aksum which was reported encircled by Italian columns but not yet captured due to the heavy fire of Ethiopian sharpshooters hidden in the hills commanding the city.

The despatches also said an Ethiopian plan to cut the Eritrean railroad at Massawa collapsed when attacks at Adi Ugri and Adi Kale were repulsed. What was described as a third attack on Adigrat, which is in Italian hands, was said to have failed.

The Soir's report said, Ethiopians attempted to recapture Adowa and were thrown back after three attacks, the battle lasting until dawn with heavy Ethiopian losses.

Large numbers of Italian wounded, the despatches read, were being moved to the rear.

The picked troops of the Ethiopian chief were hung at dawn in a spectacular cavalry, machine gun, and howitzer "scorched earth" campaign, newspaper said, inflicting heavy losses on the Italians and forcing them to retreat.

Ethiopia's defence council prepared for a new Italian offensive in the Walwal sector as stringent military censorship was put into effect. Each news correspondent was restricted to 100 words daily.

Authorities declared that the vast wordage sent out by newspapermen during recent weeks had so encumbered communications that the exchange messages necessary for the conduct of government business had been handicapped seriously.

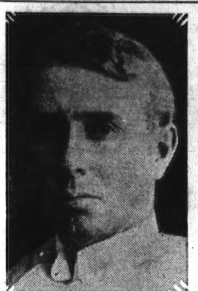

Officials also expressed their displeasure at the flood of false reports emanating from the three fronts, and appointed a group of Belgian officers to issue authoritative bulletins on new war developments.

AN AMAZING DEMONSTRATION BY FIRE WALKER

An unusual demonstration took place in London recently when, under the direction of the University of London Council for Physical Investigation, an Indian named Kuda Bux walked across a pit containing red hot wood and charcoal. The pit contained seven tons of oak logs and half a ton of charcoal, and when the temperature was 600 degrees Fahrenheit Kuda Bux walked barefoot across the pit and back again without sustaining any harm or burns. Here we see him performing the feat which amazed the spectators.

ADMINISTRATOR

Sir Lyman P. Duff, who will take the place of the Governor-General during the period of the departure of the Earl of Bessborough and the arrival of Lord Tweedsmuir.

Italian Suspects Arrested

Bank Director Among Others Held By Malta Police

Valetta, Malta.—British authorities arrested a number of suspects on espionage charges, among them Signor Parodi, director of the Italian Banca di Roma branch in Malta. These suspects were rounded up after three Italians and a British subject were arrested. The British subject was the son of an Italian and worked for an Italian Steamship Company.

Police raided the offices of several Italian shipping companies, but except for the arrests would give no information on their activity. Three Italians were expelled from Malta after having been arrested several days before for anti-British activity and suspicion of espionage.

Rome.—Arrest of nine Italian subjects by authorities of Malta, British base of Sicily in the Mediterranean, for reasons not made public, was reported without confirmation in informed Italian quarters. The report aroused irritation, but officials declined comment.

Bravery Of Constable

Shot Out Lights Of Bandit Car After Being Fatally Wounded

Calgary.—Bravery of Royal Canadian Constable G. E. Coombe, George C. Harrison after being fatally wounded by three young gunmen near Cammore, Alta., probably saved the lives of two of his companions, Constables G. E. Coombe and Grey Campbell, it was stated in a report submitted to detachment headquarters by Sergeant J. W. Casway.

Shot in the neck as he approached the bandit car with Sergeant T. S. Wallace, who also suffered fatal wounds from a volley of revolver and rifle fire, Harrison toppled into the ditch and from there calmly shot out both headlights of the gunman's car.

This action plunged the scene into darkness and the fugitives were unable to see the other officers. Harrison emptied his gun, reloaded and emptied it again before losing consciousness.

Project Again Inaugurated

Saskatchewan Lambs May Be Shipped To East For Finishing

Regina.—The Dominion lamb feeding project which has been operating in Saskatchewan for the past two years has again been inaugurated for 1935.

Under this policy Saskatchewan lambs may be shipped to eastern Canada to be fed and fattened and finished for market.

The sheep ranchers of the Maple Creek area who are members of Southern Saskatchewan Wool Growers' Association, are co-operating with the Dominion government and are consigning lambs for eastern feeding under the rancher-feeder agreement.

Farmers who are approved under the plan will not be required to lay out any cash. Freight charges to the eastern feed lots will be prepaid by the Dominion department of agriculture, reimbursement being made from the proceeds of sale when the lambs are marketed.

Under the rancher-feeder agreement for 1935, the feeder receives the value of all the gain in weight, plus 60 per cent of the spread after freight and marketing charges have been deducted.

The rancher receives $3.75 per hundredweight (Moose Jaw weights) plus 40 per cent of the spread.

Reclaiming Dry Area

Large Area In Alberta Districts Will Be Re-Grassed

Calgary.—Conversion of drought-stricken farm areas of Alberta into good range country is included in plans being completed by the commission created under the Dominion Farm Rehabilitation Act, it was announced here.

A large acreage will be re-grassed in several districts and community water conservation projects are going ahead rapidly, it was stated. It was expected tenders would be submitted shortly for drilling of gas wells on the Red Deer river and the Bjork flat near Buffalo was surveyed. The site of the proposed well was located.

AUSTRIA AND HUNGARY DISSENT FROM SANCTIONS

Geneva.—Austria and Hungary both formally dissented from sanctions against Italy. They led the way in opposition when discussions opened in the assembly.

Experts pointed out that the opposition by Austria and Hungary meant merely, in the event of a vote favoring the sanctions of Italy, that those two nations would be exempt from participating in whatever sanctions were decided upon.

The assembly meeting opened immediately after the session by the body's steering committee, which recommended that a commission on sanctions, to co-ordinate the work of the council and assembly, be created at once.

Count Fugère said Austria was loyal to the league but that it was linked to Italy with ties of the warmest friendship.

"At a fatal moment in Austria's history," declared the Austrian baron, "it was Italy who contributed to the safeguarding of the integrity of another member of the league." (He referred to the moment last year when Chancellor Dollfus was assassinated and Italy moved up an army to the southern border ready to march into Austria in case of need.)

Hungary's delegate, Laszlo Dezsics, said: "Hungary hears with grief of measures about to be applied against Italy, which so frequently and effectively has shown its friendship toward Hungary."

The Canadian delegation, it is understood, will vote in favor of the report of the committee of six powers which found Italy guilty of resorting to war in defiance of the league covenant.

But Canada will not be represented on the sanctions committee which is to represent both the council and the assembly and which will study the best ways of sanctions application.

The question of Canadian representation on the committee was discussed in private between empire delegates but, it is understood, G. Howard Ferguson, Canadian high commissioner to Great Britain and a member of Canada's delegation, suggested that in view of its closer association with the east African part of the Union of South Africa would be a more appropriate appointment on this committee. This suggestion was followed. As a member of the league council, Australia will probably also be on the committee.

POOL MEMBERS TO GET PAYMENTS ON 1930 CROP

Winnipeg.—Negotiations have been completed with the Canadian wheat board for the taking over of all wheat and contracts from the Canadian Co-operative Wheat Producers, Limited, L. C. Brouillette, president of the central board, stated here.

The transaction makes possible adjustment of payments to members of the 1930 pools who received an initial payment of less than 60 cents a bushel for their wheat, basis No. 1 Northern, Fort William, and to members of the coars grain pools who received less than the initial prices.

"If the 1930 pool carryover had been thrown on the market it would have been impossible to have carried on stabilization operations undertaken by the government agency under the direction of John I. McFarland," Mr. Brouillette said.

"For more than two years of these operations the 1930 carryover composed nearly 100 per cent of the holdings used in the stabilization operations. . . . The increased price received by wheat producers, as a result of these operations, brought total benefits to growers estimated between $150,000,000 and $200,000,000."

Calgary.—Distribution of between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000 to Alberta farmers will result from completion of negotiations for the Canadian wheat board to take over all wheat and contracts from the Canadian Co-operative Wheat Producers, Limited, it was estimated by Calgary grain men.

Greece Restores Monarchy

Not A Shot Fired When Controversy Ended With Dramatic Suddenness

Athens.—Greece rejected her 11-year-old republic in a swift royalist coup d'état, capped by a rousing vote of the national assembly restoring the monarchy.

Amid scenes of wild rejoicing in the national assembly building—once the royal palace—the nation's law makers decreed the return of King George II, from exile in England. Then, despite their approval of restoration, the assemblymen decided to go on with the republican constitution on the grounds that November 3 in order to give the people a chance to express their opinion.

General George Kondylis, who seized the reins of government in a swift and bloodless stroke, was named regent until the king comes back. In London the king, who abandoned the throne December 18, 1923, dined calmly at his hotel with his aide-de-camp, Major Levidis, and awaited official news of the restoration.

Crowds in the packed assembly buildings joined in wild applause for the vote of restoration. The archbishop of Athens, who previously had blessed the proceedings, led the rejoicing.

Kondylis, the former minister of war, ended the controversy over restoration of the monarchy with dramatic suddenness. He forced the resignation of the government of Premier Tsaldaris, proclaimed martial law and threw troops about public buildings. But not a shot was fired.

Although everything was quiet, the curfew rang over Greece at 10 p.m. and army patrols were active in the streets of Athens and Salonika. Authorities said fears of actions by extremists, especially communists, made martial law necessary.

Meteorite Fires Straw Stack

Threshing Machine Saved By Quick Action Of Men

Vegreville, Alta.—Rain and snow halted threshing operations on many farms but the peak in astronomical interruptions was reached on the farm of C. W. Campbell near here when a meteorite crashed into the straw pile, set it afire and frightened horses galloping to distant fields.

The separator owner, S. A. Sanford, organized his bewildered men and the threshing machine was pulled to safety from the burning straw. A fireguard was hurriedly prepared to protect the stacked crop and buildings.

Kitchener, Ont.—Settlement of a Kitchener estate is being delayed as part of an assets consists of an action in an Italian bank. Written requests for the money have brought replies it will not be sent out of the country. The executor is considering buying a cargo of olive oil in Italy and selling it in Canada.

YOU CAN'T SLING MUD

OVER THE RADIO

One blessing the radio has evidently brought about: In election campaigns such as the one through which we have just passed, mud slinging was very conspicuous by its absence. The campaign, throughout was clean, candidates even going so far as to try at all possible avoid overlapping of meetings or appointments, and the most severe nickname used was the common "My friend!"

SPARS FOR HIS

MAJESTY'S YACHT

Two splendid samples of British Columbia's finest timber were loaded from the C.N.R. docks at Victoria recently on the deep-sea freighter New Westminster City in the form of two spars which will be used as masts for His Majesty's new yacht, which will replace the famed old Britannia.

Three flat cars, especially rigged for the job, brought them down by railway from Cowichan lake in the island interior for shipment to England.

One is 106 feet long with a 20-inch top, the other 96 feet long with a 22-inch top, weighing about seven tons each.

It took two months to fill the order, and eight huge trees were felled before the exacting requirements could be met. Both sides are heart centered at each end.

Together with the two masts went two booms for the yacht. They were almost as long as the masts.

Apart from these spars, His Majesty already has a fine piece of British Columbia timber in his possession, the flagpole at Windsor Castle.

Angus Chalm: "In my country we could grow a tree like that in about a year. How long did it take to grow that one?"

Grant: "Can't say for sure, but it wasn't there yesterday."

Bertha's Beau (waiting for her to come downstairs): "Is Bertha your oldest sister?"

Kid Brother: "Yep."

Bertha's Beau: "And who comes after her?"

Kid: "You and two other boys."

WHY EDITORS DIE YOUNG

Here is a specimen typographic error appearing in a Kansas paper:

Hobart Jones has been in Hitchison since last Tuesday, where he went to have a tooth extracted. They found the tooth so imbedded in the gum that it was necessary to take him to the hospital.

Eight hundred and ninety candidates sought election at the polls Monday to fill 246 seats. In Alberta there were seventy fighting for seventeen seats.

Rain showers on Saturday did anything but favor Mrs. Stevenson's open-air carnival at Hillcrest. As the stage was all set, the affair was successfully pulled off on Monday.

Norman Oliver cracked a genuine smile on Saturday last when he hooked and landed a three-pound speckled trout from the local stream near McLaren's Mill.

The Brooks Bulletin last week observed its 28th birthday. The editor said that in the newspaper game he was confident that the first hundred years were the hardest, and there were still seventy-two to pass before that mark was reached.

After suffering a lingering illness, Mrs. Dianne passed away on Friday last at the home of her son, Fred, here. Mrs. Dianne, whose maiden name was Rosalie St. Almond, was born in Winnipeg on August 10th, 1866, and was educated at St. Boniface, Manitoba.

Her father was employed with the Hudson Bay Co., and carried the mail into the far north with dog teams. Later he joined the U.S. army, and was a scout during the Indian trouble and the first man to give alarm at Fort Pembina in 1870. After the Minnesota massacre in 1879, Mr. St. Almond and family moved back to Winnipeg. On April 16th, 1881, she was united in marriage to Rendi Dianne at St. Agathe. Living happily together for a great many years, she and her husband were fortunate in celebrating their golden wedding anniversary on May the 24th, 1933.

Two sons, Fred and Ed, served overseas in the Great War, both returning safely at its close. Five sons, Ed, Fred, Louis, Lawrence and George, and Mr. LaPointe, were pallbearers. Mrs. Dianne was predeceased by her husband on January 3rd, 1934, and three children who died in early childhood. She leaves eight children, nine grandchildren and five great-grandchildren to mourn her loss.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gilmor celebrated the anniversary of their golden wedding at their home, two and a half miles west of town, on October 14th. The aged couple, who have remained hale and hearty through all these years, were married in 1885 at Sault Ste Marie. After spending twenty years of married life together on a farm in Ontario, Mr. and Mrs. Gilmor moved with their growing family of children to Alberta, taking up residence on their homestead, where they still live and carry on. To this union ten children were born, four of whom are still living, and in their latter days they have been blessed with eighteen grandchildren. Mrs. Gilmor, whose maiden name was Sarah Sharp, was born in Kent, England, in the year 1864. She migrated with her people to Canada sixty years ago, when they settled in Ontario, making a home for her during her girlhood. Mr. Gilmor was born in 1861 at Walkerton in Bruce County, Ontario. On this auspicious occasion, their children and grandchildren were gathered together around them to do them honor. Their children are Mrs. Florence Willoughby, of Lethbridge; Mrs. Edith Thompson, of Pincher Creek; Jim, of Blairmore, and Clarence, of Lillie.

A while ago, one newspaper carried a heading: "Max Baer to use crouch in his coming battle with Louis." Commenting on that heading, another paper made the correct guess: "After a couple of rounds, undoubtedly, a crouch will be substituted."

"SWEETHEART'S REJOICE"

TITLE OF NEW SONG

Persistency has been rewarded in the efforts of John W. Read, a Coleman composer, by the publication of a song with the above title, composed by him and now on sale. In addition, he has another song to be published. Battling against many disappointments, which is always the lot of a struggling writer or composer trying to achieve fame and fortune, he has at last had the pleasure of seeing some of his work in print, and will be hearing the sweet tones of "Sweetheart's Rejoice" being played on pianos and crooned over the radio. Congratulations, young man!—Coleman Journal.

Copies of this new song are on sale at the jewelry store of S. Trono in Blairmore.

HARKING BACK

(From The Blairmore Enterprise, October 10, 1946)

Monday last was a gala day for Blairmore. It was the tenth anniversary of the tragic ending of Tim Buck's boulevard. The remnants of the Red element attended, and appeared to be the most sorrowful. It will be remembered that the famous boulevard was established by a Red council back in 1934, and lasted only a short while. It was intended as a lasting monument to Tim Buck, who had served a term in jail for a breach of the criminal code of Canada.

Capt. Beebe entertained a number of friends at his beautiful residence on Victoria street on Wednesday last, September the 26th, in celebration of his 99th birthday. "Cap" is still hale and hearty, and often recalls the good old days of seventy-five years ago, when he held the post of navigator on the Great Lakes. Speaking to his guests on Wednesday, he made mention of the fact that exactly eleven years ago he visited Mayo Brothers at Rochester, when the nearest guess to his age those experts could make was sixty-six, while in reality he was eighty-eight.

Mr. and Mrs. Simpson paid a holiday visit here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Tompkins. While here they celebrated the eleventh anniversary of their marriage. They are at present residing in Edmonton. Mr. Simpson was a former member of the R.C.M.P. detachment at Blairmore, while Mrs. Simpson taught for several years at the Blairmore school.

An airplane crashed through the roof of Sartoria's garage on Monday, quite seriously injuring Mike Presbyter, who was reposing on a lounge in the ladies' waiting room. Mike was removed to the municipal district hospital at Coleman, where he is reported doing nicely.

You talk about speed and action: Why, the Mackenzie King government was elected to power on Monday night, and Tuesday morning Fred Green got busy and fixed up Blairmore's main street to make it passable!

It would indeed be very interesting right now to consider the possible influence early radio returns from the east must have, or could have on the continuing vote in the west. Fully two or three hours before the polls in Alberta and British Columbia close, returns are being received from Eastern Canada, and no doubt many last-minute voters are guided by the East's lead.

Sam Brown, of Blackie, former U. F.A. member in the High River constituency, accompanied Mr. Coote to The Pass last week. This happened to be Mr. Brown's first visit to this corner of the province, and he expressed himself as surprised at the extent and industrial activity of the district, regretting, however, that all mines in the district were not working to Coleman's capacity.

Returning from Vancouver, where he attended the funeral of her late husband, J. L. Parker, Mrs. Parker was accompanied by Mrs. C. Stevens, who spent several days at the Lee Lake Ranch, also visiting with friends in the district. Mr. and Mrs. Chris Stevens were former residents of Castle River district, where they successfully prosecuted farming. They are now residing near Vancouver.

Doing Important Work

Obscure Seamstress Weaving Silk Strands On Litter's Compass Card

Important contribution to the safety of the new giant liner, Queen Mary, is being made by a little seamstress living in obscurity at Glasgow, Scotland.

She is Miss Edith Rankin, of Ben View street, to whom has been allotted the task of weaving gossamer strands of silk on the magnetic compass card, made of flexible material.

Lightness with strength are necessary with the compass card and these strands, which must be perfectly even, achieve the purpose. This accomplished, Miss Rankin's delicate fingers then sew on the magnetic needles.

"They have to be adjusted to a thousandth of an inch," Miss Rankin said. "A fractional error in fixing the needles can put a ship far off her course."

Miss Rankin works to this astonishing accuracy with the aid only of ordinary appliances.

After years at the job she can tell almost instinctively by her fingers whether the magnetic needles are exactly in place.

Ships all over the world use compasses which have passed through her hands. "Does it thrill you?" she was asked.

"I suppose it ought to," was the reply.

Claims X-Ray Eyes

Heavily Bandaged Kashmiri Indian Read Book He Had Never Seen

"With his head availed in bandages save for an aperture for the nose, Kuda Bux, a Kashmiri Indian, read rapidly from a book he had never seen before several eminent doctors in London recently. They included Professor Edward Andrade Quain, Professor of Physics at London University, Dr. J. G. Porter-Phillips, superintendent of the Bethlehem Royal Hospital, and Dr. C. Jennings Marshall, the surgeon. Dr. Marshall bandaged the Indian placing two lumps of sticky dough over the eyes.

On these was laid a large pad of cotton round which a broad bandage was tied over the face, on either side of the nose, and another passed over the mouth. Kuda Bux is known as "the man with the X-ray eyes."

"Last Sabbath," said an elder with glee, "as kirk was coming out, a drover chiel from Dumfries came along the road whistling as happy as it was the middle o' the week. Weel, oors is a God-fearing set o' lads, and they nearly killed him."

Appreciates The Editor

Minister Offers A Toast At Editorial Convention

"To save an editor from starvation, take his paper and pay for it promptly."

"To save him from bankruptcy, advertise in his paper liberally."

"To save him from despair, send him every item of news you can get hold of."

"To save him from profanity, write your correspondence plainly on one side of the sheet and send it in as early as possible."

"To save him from mistakes, bury him. Dead people are the only ones who never make mistakes."—Wisconsin Press.

The Ultimate In Quietness

Taking Off Hat Makes Noise In Soundproof Room

The new Hayden Planetarium in New York is so quiet that you can hear a man take off his hat in the place, and when he takes off his coat he makes a distinct racket.

The planetarium, sound-proofed by acoustical devices, was opened Oct. 3 and the tests of its quietness announced.

In terms of decibels, it is 15 times less noisy than the volume of sound which a normal ear can barely hear. Sounding recording instruments showed a jump of five decibels when a man took off his hat in the place.

Used Gold Roadbed

Nevada Train Travelled 67 Years Over Rich Vels

For 67 years the old Virginia and Truckee Railroad at Virginia City, Nevada, has hauled gold and silver ore, with its operators all unconscious of a part of its roadbed concealed a vein valued at $2,000,000. A section of the railroad, owned chiefly by Ogden Mills, former secretary of the United States treasury, has been moved across the canyon so the Sutro Tunnel Coalition Inc., locally owned, can sink a shaft and recover the new wealth.

Curly-
Eared
Dog for

Youngster

Personality—the chief feature of a good mascot or an adored toy. Here it is in this curly-eared, curly-tailed dog. Maybe he's a Pomeranian, perhaps a spaniel, but he's certainly a full-breed when it comes to being a joyous toy. His tail is a lovely handle—his floppy ears are sewn in so securely even pulling can't dislocate them! And his tail will be just as pert as this when you make the dog, for it's properly stuffed. As a mascot, he'll be lovely in a gay print or real loud velvet—any mascot must be heard, of course!

In pattern 5448 you will find a pattern and detailed directions for making the dog, and material requirements.

To obtain this pattern send 20 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to Household Arts Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

OCTOBER 20

THE MESSAGE OF JEREMIAH

Golden text: Hearken unto my voice, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people. Jeremiah 7:15. Lesson: Jeremiah 7:1-26. Devotional reading: Psalm 96:7-13.

Explanations And Comments

False and True Security, verses 1-7. Jeremiah stood in the gateway of the temple at Jerusalem and warned the people that true religion lay in amending their ways and not in mere ritual. The temple could not have them. The threefold repetition of the words "the temple of Jehovah" suggests the energy of iteration that belongs only to Eastern fanatics. Dean Stanley observes. Recall the repeated cries of the fanatics in the theater of Ephesus, "Great is Diana of the Ephesians," Acts 19.

Rampant Evil, verses 8-11. Jeremiah did not hesitate to accuse the people of flagrant sin, whatever the consequences to himself might be of such boldness. He accused them of breaking the commandments against theft, adultery, false witnessing, and so forth. He accused them of worshipping God, coming to the temple and saying, "We are delivered," by the discharge of this formalism we are set free for the return to wickedness.

In this house, which is called by my name, become a den of robbers in years? Behold, even I, have seen it, saith Jehovah. Recall Christ's words in Mark 11:15-17.

To Obey Is Better Than Sacrifice, verses 21-23. "Add your burnt-offerings unto your sacrifices, and eat your flesh: multiplying your victims add libitum; it will avail your naught!" (Dummelow). The next verse need not be more than "a forcible oratorical expression, not meaning that no ceremonial laws were given to Israel when brought out of Egypt, but that in the promulgation of the Ten Commandments on Sinai there was no direction concerning sacrifice" (Dummelow).

Hearken unto my voice, and I will your God, and ye shall be my people; and walk ye in all the way that I command you, that it may be with you.

The Champion Tea Drinker

Bristol Woman Never Takes Less Than Thirty Cups A Day

The average tea consumption of the people of Great Britain is about five cups each every day of their lives. As this figure includes babies and those few who never drink it at all, it is obvious that the consumption must be higher than that. Enquiries recently made in London and elsewhere disclosed that a daily consumption of ten and twelve cups is by no means uncommon, and that there are many people who habitually drink even more than that. So far the champion tea drinker appears to be a woman living in Bristol who claims that she never drinks less than thirty cups a day, and that she has never been ill in her life. Even Dr. Johnson drank only twenty cups a day.

A Sky-Scraper Man

Measures Seven Feet Six Inches And Is Still Growing

The world's tallest man must surely be Hans Shlitzer, who, not long ago at the age of twenty measured 7 feet 6 inches in height. He was examined by doctors who believe that according to his record, he will reach nine feet before he stops growing. It takes six and a half yards of material to make him a suit. All his relatives are normal in height. Hans' ambition is to become a film star. A club was founded recently in Yorkshire for men who were over 72 inches in height. They clubbed together to protest against small chairs, inadequate leg-room in cinemas, and cramped head-room in trams and buses.

Carrier Of Disease-Germs

Carlessness In Home Is Blamed By Toronto Doctor

Dust on the street may be a nuisance but as a carrier of disease germs, it is practically negligible according to Dr. Gordon P. Jackson, M.O.H. Neither are disease-causing germs transmitted by air to any extent, he told the York County Home and School Council at a meeting in Toronto. In a comprehensive address on communicable diseases, he declared there was too much carelessness in handling of food in the home. The "thumb-in-the-soup" was much too prevalent and frequently responsible for such diseases as dysentery, typhoid and diphtheria. Because of germs often carried through soil fertilization, it was essential that all greens be thoroughly washed. Cups, glasses, bedding and papers were often menaces in spreading disease because they had been contaminated by some person.

Soviet scientists have just decided that Di-Mekon, in Eastern Siberia, is the coldest place in the world. This is why. SYNOPSIS

Nancy Nelson is a sub-bred, a gay, irresponsible girl of nineteen, with no care beyond the choice of her costume for her coming-out party. Suddenly, in the market crash, her indulgent father loses all he had, and his family is faced with the necessity of a simpler method of living. At this juncture a letter is received from an eccentric relative in Colorado, who offers the girl a home on what seems to be impossible conditions.

After much consideration Cousin Columbine's offer is accepted, and Nancy and Jack arrive at Pine Ridge. Nancy set out one afternoon to climb to the top of a hill so as to obtain a view of the surrounding landscape and miss the path Aurora Tubbs had told her to follow. A truck comes along the road, driven by Matthew Adams, and she asks him which way to go. They ascend the hill, look around, and then go on to Cousin Columbine's. There Mark Adam tells Nancy that his brother Luke has broken his leg, and that Jack Nelson has been bitten on the head while Luke's leg gets better. With Jack away, Nancy finds that she is lonesome, and having no books to read, the idea of starting a public library at Pine Ridge seems a good one. After that Nancy knows nothing about her parents to send all the books they could spare and all they could induce others to let them have.

Nancy's parents and friends gave their liberal support to her request for books, and a sizeable box arrived in due course. Father Adam painted a sign for the library, and the Adam boys worked on the shelves for the books and decorations to make the room look presentable.

Jack Nelson, Matthew Adams, and Nancy go to the prairie home of Matthew's uncle for the ride, and after Nancy and Jack leave for home, they are caught in a blizzard. Blinded by the swirling snow they collide with their car being wrecked, Jack and Nancy stay with the children and do all they can to help. The next morning Jack sets out for help in the blizzard. He succeeds in finding help and the party of children and Nancy are rescued. As a result of the exposure Nancy's feet are badly frozen, and Jack is seriously ill with pneumonia, but both of them recover.

dreadful hours of cold and hunger—those helpless children—Jack facing the blizzard all alone. And suddenly Nancy Nelson was just a little girl again, a frightened little girl who yearned for the comfort that had never failed her when life seemed cruel—and life had never been so cruel before. She said, her voice breaking a little: "I want—I want my mother."

"Thank God!" said the nurse; and the tall shadow in the doorway turned into Matthew Adams—a gaunt and haggard Matthew to be sure, but comfortingly familiar amid the strangers. Two quick strides brought him to Nancy's bed, and bending down he lifted one of her hands gently.

"Thank God!" he said, just like the white nurse; and then anticipating the question she was too weak to ask: "Jack got there, Nancy. He reached Bartlett's before we did; but the wires were down so Mrs. Bartlett couldn't call for help, and her husband was hunting for cattle in the drifts. But if Jack hadn't gone there's no knowing when we'd have found you, Nancy. He was all in, of course, but—but he will be all right."

This was Matt's verdict, not the doctor's; nor did he add that Jack was only a room away, fighting pneumonia. Time enough for that knowledge when she was stronger. Then the nurse warned: "That's all for now, Mr. Adam," and Nancy opened her eyes, which had grown sleepy, and asked: "The children?"

"All safe," Matt answered; then, as a cry of pain escaped her, "Oh, Nancy! It is as bad as that?"

"It was very bad indeed, but with returning strength came self-control, and though there were times in the hours to come when her face twitched with anguish, no whimper passed the girl's lips again."

Later she woke to find Cousin Columbine beside her bed. "How do you feel, child?" The crisp old voice was shaken with emotion. Nancy scarcely recognized it.

"How's—Jack?" she asked. "I'm stronger than Jack. I . . ."

The weak words lagged, and Cousin Columbine said quickly: "Your brother's making a brave fight, child. I always said he had the courage of a lioness. And you have too, Nancy. I—I am so proud of you."

Nancy said nothing for a little while. Scenes from those tragic hours were crowding back.

"You were right—about the—the weather, Cousin Columbine," she admitted in a quivering, small voice. And then, a tear slipping from beneath her lashes: "I wish . . ."

"What do you wish, dear?" asked the old lady, bending closer.

Nancy tried to smile, but found herself too spent to manage it. "I'm only a—little homesick," she acknowledged.

A nurse came in just then with a sturges doctor; and Cousin Columbine went out. They looked at her legs, and brought another doctor to look at them. Nancy wondered what they were thinking, but was too tired to ask and dropped asleep before they left the room.

It was night when she opened her eyes again. A dim light burned, and a different nurse was there, and a new doctor. No, it wasn't a doctor, Nancy saw after a moment. It was just Matt Adams. She heard the woman say to tell Miss Nelson that her niece was sleeping; and that after a consultation the doctors felt that, after all, she wouldn't lose her feet.

Now how in the world, mused Nancy, will all awake, could you lose your feet even if you wanted to? That nurse was crazy. She spoke as if your feet could be mislaid like a pair of gloves or a pocketbook or something! The idea made her almost laugh. Then, realizing that Matthew was about to leave, a wave of homesickness swept over her again, and she protested.

"Don't go, Matt!"

Again the unexpected voice startled her nurse; but Matthew came close, and stood there looking down at her. Then some one turned up a light, and Nancy saw how unbelievably tired he was.

"Better?" His voice was heavy with fatigue and land anxiety. Nancy nodded.

"Where's—Cousin Columbine?"

"In the hall. It's pretty late. She's staying down here to keep an eye on you."

"And—Jack?"

There was a noticeable pause before Matt answered steadily: "Don't worry about Jack, Nancy. That's the dandiest fighter you ever saw."

The nurse turned at this, and going to a window, did something unnecessary to the curtain; while Matthew, bending down, said quietly: "Is there anything I can do before I go, Nancy?"

"You're so tired, Matt," she answered with irrelevance.

He smiled at that and didn't look so tired after all, but the girl said: "You won't drive up the pass to-night, will you? Promise you won't—or I'll worry."

"I promise. I'll stay down here with John. Mother thought Miss Columbine might need me in the morning for her errands or something," he added hurriedly. "Now be a good girl, Nancy, and go to sleep."

"Couldn't you stay till I drop off?" she pleaded. "I'm kind of—homesick."

Matt glanced at the nurse, not knowing what rules there are in hospitals; and at a nod sat down by Nancy's bed.

"We can't let you be homesick," he told her gravely, "but you mean a lot to me."

As the nurse (smiling in a manner that would have brought a blush to the young man's cheek if he hadn't been so utterly self-conscious in that moment) turned down the light and left them for a little time, it seemed to Nancy that all his weariness had dropped away. Nancy wanted him there! No matter what happened, he'd always have that to remember. He might be awkward and bashful where most girls were concerned, but now, when she was weak and suffering, the one girl in the world had asked him to stand by. After all, life was pretty wonderful, thought Matthew Adams, forgetting in the moment, the grim fight waging in the room beyond.

Attractive Home In Scotland

Furnishings Of Balmoral Castle Described By Glasgow Paper

Balmoral Castle dining-room is very beautiful of an evening, says the Glasgow Herald. The walls of old parchment make a fitting background for many, but not too many, large paintings, mostly portraits of bygone royalties. Doors and woodwork are of natural unvarnished pine, which matches in tone the great carved oak sideboards at either end of the room.

Armchairs in the same pale wood are upholstered in red morocco that catches up the color of the Turkey carpeting on the floor and the rich silken curtains at the wide windows. A thousand lights appear to twinkle from the great crystal chandelier above the table and reflect their colors in the other crystal appointments such as finger-plates and door-handles. The Queen remains true to white linen for table use and the fine damask has intervened in it the letters, "G. R." and a picture of the Castle.

Opening from this apartment is the smaller drawing-room. This is carpeted in rich lawn green, and has chairs and settees dressed in gaily patterned cretonnes that have a turquoise green foundation. The pictures here show many royal past, and present, on canvases of eminent artists. Dogs of many breeds there are, and cats, canaries and parrots.

One large oil painting is of the Kaiser's mother, a former Princess Royal, as a child feeding her Shetland pony. Like the smaller one, the large drawing-room is carpeted in lawn green and dressed in bright cretonnes.

One little pine-framed armchair, however, is different. It was Queen Victoria's favorite, and stands apart, upholstered in Royal Stuart tartan silk. The crystal chandeliers in this large room are augmented by pedestals standing at intervals along the walls and bearing white marble figures of Highlanders very much in action. Each holds aloft a group of lights ended in crystal.

From this principal room a door leads to the library. Here their Majesties when alone or with one or two members of their family, frequently take breakfast, and sometimes tea.

Little Help For This Week

I will instruct and teach thee in the way thou shouldst go, I will guide thee with mine eye. Psalm 32:8.

Oh, keep thy conscience sensitive; No inward token miss; And go the grace entices thee, Perfection lies in this.

We need only obey. There is guidance for each of us, and by lowly listening we shall hear the right word.

The heights of christian perfection can only be reached by faithfully each moment following the Guide who is to lead you there, and He reveals His way to you step by step. The little things of your daily lives, asking only on your part that you yield yourself up to His guidance. If then in anything you feel doubtful or troubled be sure that it is the voice of your Lord, and surrender it at once to His bidding, rejoicing with a great joy that He has begun to lead you.

Using Ancient Privilege

Royal Marines Go Through Old Ceremony In London

The Royal Marines, who at the King's express command are mounting guard at Buckingham Palace while the regular Guards are away on manoeuvres, for the first time will exercise their ancient privilege of marching through the city with "bayonets fixed, drums beating and colors flying."

The privilege arose from the fact that the Marines are direct descendants of the "trained bands" of Elizabethan and Stuart days. Nevertheless, permission of the Lord Mayor is still necessary. Leaving Chelsea Barrack, the Marines will halt at the Thames Embankment, where bayonets will be fixed and colors uncased. The City Marshal will challenge them at the boundary of the city proper, after which he will ride at the head of the force, the Lord Mayor taking the salute at the Mansion House.

The Marines comprise three divisions permanently stationed at Chatham, Plymouth and Portsmouth. This is the first time they have ever done duty in London.

The Local Merchant Deserves a Square Deal

It has got to be practically common knowledge that local householders are receiving goods ordered wholesale by an official of a local concern, which is not in fairness to the local merchant who has the stock circulating in good faith wholesale, with the prospect of selling same at a reasonable amount of profit to the local trade. It may be pointed out that the local dealer has to pay School Taxes, Business Taxes, Insurance, Storage, etc., before he can realize a just profit, while the goods delivered direct from the wholesale firm to the customer realize no returns whatever locally, except the commission in the pocket of the above-mentioned official, whose business should be entirely along another line.
